General contribution to the Convention against Torture Initiative (CTI)

Key results:
- Universal ratification of the United Nations Convention against Torture by 2024
- Notably better implementation of the United Nations Convention against Torture by 2024

Justification for support:
- One of the key Danish human rights priorities is the fight against torture. Denmark works through several channels to promote this cause, including the UN.
- In 2014 the Convention against Torture Initiative (CTI) was launched as a ten-year global initiative for the universal ratification and better implementation of the UN Convention against Torture (UNCAT). The initiative was launched by Chile, Denmark, Ghana, Indonesia and Morocco forming the core group of the CTI to promote universal ratification and better implementation of the central UN document in torture prevention, the Convention against Torture.
  - The project was launched in collaboration with the well renowned and trusted long-time partner, the Association for the Prevention of Torture (APT) who also hosts the CTI Secretariat.
  - The CTI serves as an innovative platform for exchanges of best practices among UN member states with a focus on cooperation and dialogue. It also provides coordinated legal and technical support.
  - The CTI’s objectives, which aim at the strengthening of the fundamental human rights, are in line with the strategic priorities of the Danish Government’s Strategy for Development Cooperation: The World 2030.

Major risks and challenges:
- The ambitious goal of universal ratification of the convention may prove difficult to achieve due to facts not related to the project.
- Minimal institutional and reputational risks linked to the lack of incorporation of UNCAT into Danish law. Danish MFA's openness to participate in CTI peer-to-peer processes can serve as a mitigating factor.

Strategic objectives:
The CTI aims to achieve universal ratification and better implementation of the Convention against Torture by 2024.
The immediate objectives of the CTI are:
- To identify challenges and barriers to ratification and implementation of the UNCAT.
- To address these obstacles through inter-state cooperation, assistance and dialogue.
- To become a hub for sharing knowledge and good practices between governments.
- To build a global platform of states, the UN, national and international NGOs and experts to work jointly to achieve the CTI vision.

Justification for choice of partner:
The Association for the Prevention of Torture (APT) is a well renowned NGO in the field of torture prevention. With over 40 years of experience in enabling actors worldwide to effectively prevent torture and other ill-treatment. The APT has been working closely with Denmark over the last two decades on the Danish key human rights priority of fighting torture and other ill-treatment.

Summary:
The CTI is an intergovernmental cross-regional initiative launched in March 2014 by the Governments of Chile, Denmark, Ghana, Indonesia and Morocco forming the core group of the CTI to promote universal ratification and better implementation of the Convention against Torture. As in previous years, the 2018 grant will cover the costs of the administrative management of the CTI and the implementation of core and project activities, as agreed by the Core Group. APT legally hosts the CTI Secretariat and offers administrative, legal and financial services to the secretariat, as well as technical and strategic advice on the prohibition and prevention of torture accordance with the Memorandum of Understanding between the APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark in Geneva.

Project document:

Core contribution to the Convention against Torture Initiative (CTI) 2018

1. Introduction

Torture and ill-treatment of persons deprived of their liberty remain a serious global problem undermining the fundamental principles of justice for all. A special global effort is required to tackle this wide-scale violation of people’s human rights and dignity.

In March 2014, the Governments of Chile, Denmark, Ghana, Indonesia and Morocco, marked the 30th anniversary of the Convention against Torture and other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (CAT) by launching a ten-year global initiative, the Convention against Torture Initiative (CTI), for the universal ratification and implementation of the Convention. The launch and project planning was done with assistance by the Association for the Prevention of Torture (APT), an international human rights organization expert in the field of torture prevention and a long-term cooperation partner of the Danish Government.

The CTI is a long-term engagement promoting inter-State cooperation to help countries overcome obstacles in ratification and implementation of the CAT. The aim has been to create an innovative platform for exchanges of best practices, as well as coordinated and sustained support in the form of legal and technical advice and assistance.

In 2015, an independent CTI Secretariat hosted by the APT was established to administer and manage the work of the CTI. Since its establishment in 2014, the CTI has gained wide recognition as a key player in the area of torture prevention at international level with a potential to impact international and national policy making.

Denmark supports the Convention against Torture Initiative and its activities with a core contribution of 5-6 million DKK annually. Denmark is so far the sole funder of the CTI and its activities. Consequently, the results achieved by CTI could not have been achieved without Denmark’s engagement.

2. Brief summary of issues to be addressed and institutional context

The CTI is a ten-year inter-state initiative outside the UN system with the main objective of promoting universal ratification of the Convention Against Torture by 2024 as well as improving implementation of the convention.

The CTI is driven by a core group of five equal partners: Chile, Denmark, Ghana, Indonesia and Morocco, representing respectively the regions of Europe, Asia, the MENA-region, Africa and the Americas. Furthermore, the CTI has a Group of Friends currently counting 39 states and 17 NGOs. States such as Fiji, Myanmar, Burkina Faso, Sierra Leone, Togo, Uganda, Egypt, Iraq, Jordan and Tunisia are members of the group of friends.

The Danish engagement with the CTI can be considered both a programme, and a policy engagement reflecting the Danish human rights priority of fighting torture.
3. Strategic considerations and justification

The fight against torture has been a cornerstone in Danish human rights policy initiatives for decades. Torture prevention is also an area where Denmark, with its extensive expertise and well-established role as a lead in the fight against torture can make a tangible difference.

The CTI was developed in consideration of the existing mechanisms, bodies and actors working to prevent and eradicate torture. The existing structures were mainly focussing on states parties to the CAT and on multilateral and organisation-state relations. The relevance of the CTI lies in the establishment of the inter-state approach whereby knowledge is informally and unconditionally exchanged to break down barriers to ratification and better implementation by sharing of good practices and experiences.

The activities carried out by CTI (seminars, peer-to-peer assistance, development of tools and capacity building), its structure as an inter-State initiative, as well as its constructive “no-name, no-shame” approach, have enabled CTI to create impact. By creating a platform for dialogue several countries who otherwise had not previously shown the will or ability to ratify CAT have done so. The project is run in a lean and effective manner where the CTI Secretariat works through a day-to-day contact with the core group in implementing the multiyear strategy. The set-up is agile and efficient in its ability to adjust the dialogue with member states according to the needs. The structure of the CTI permits Denmark to address the national policy level in countries through the partners of the CTI core group, who may have a more substantial and stronger leverage than Denmark in relation to the countries of other legal traditions. This ensures a strong foundation for the dialogue and thus the commitments made by the member states the CTI engages with, ensuring sustainability in the work.

Through the partnership with the Association for the Prevention of Torture, the CTI Secretariat is anchored with a reliable and renowned partner with a strong 40 year track record in prevention of torture.

4. Theory of change and key assumptions

The key assumption and the overall theory of change of the engagement is that commitment and engagement by UN member states can be activated and supported through dialogue and a strong international cooperation, which will produce tangible results in ratification and national implementation of CAT, and the overall improvement of the national torture preventing structures and processes. This, in its turn, will result in the increased protection of the rights holders and consolidate the universal fight against torture.

See also the results framework in Annex 3

5. Project Objective and summary of results frame

The project is human rights based in that it focuses on the human right to be free from torture, with an objective of a universal ratification and better implementation of the CAT by 2024.

The immediate objectives of the CTI are:

- To identify challenges and barriers to ratification and implementation of the CAT.
- To address these obstacles through inter-state cooperation, assistance and dialogue.
To become a hub for sharing knowledge and good practices between governments.
To build a global platform of states, the UN, national and international NGOs and experts to work jointly to achieve the CTI vision.

Detailed indicators are presented in the results framework in Annex 3.

The Permanent Mission of Denmark to the UN in Geneva will base the support to the CTI on progress attained in the implementation of the engagement as described in the documentation. Progress will be measured through the CTI’s monitoring framework.

6. Inputs/budget
For detailed budget, divided between the CTI key activities, please see Annex B of the Memorandum of Understanding 2018 between the APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark in Geneva (Annex 7).

7. Institutional and Management arrangement
Management arrangements and roles are defined in the Memorandum of Understanding 2018 between the APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark in Geneva (Annex 7).

The CTI secretariat is in ongoing and close contact with the core group member states. Formally, through scheduled biannual meetings with focal points and ambassadors from the Permanent Missions to the United Nations in Geneva of the five core group countries. Informally, through a close ongoing dialogue on the work of the CTI through core group participation and cooperation with the secretariat in the implementation of the multi-year strategies which guides the secretariat in the daily work. The strategies are developed in cooperation between the secretariat and the core group members at ambassadors level. The CTI secretariat reports in writing to the core group on CTI implementation events.

As the sole donor to the CTI Denmark is involved in financial and budgetary considerations, including redistribution on budget lines where relevant, and in compliance with the Memorandum of Understanding 2018 between the APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark in Geneva (Annex 7).

CTI Secretariat and the APT abides by Danida’s rules concerning anti-corruption and child labour rules.

8. Financial Management, planning and reporting
Financial management, planning and reporting arrangements are described in the Part 2 and Part 4 of the Memorandum of Understanding 2018 between the APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark in Geneva (Annex 7).

9. Risk Management
No major programmatic and institutional risk factors are foreseen in the implementation of the project. See annex 4 for elaboration on minor institutional and reputational risks.

Annex 1: Context Analysis

1. Overall development challenges, opportunities and risks

The Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (CAT) was adopted in 1984. At the launch of the CTI in 2014 – the 30th anniversary of the convention, the CAT had only 153 states parties. Ratification of CAT commits and guides States, through an incremental process of improvement, on effective torture prohibition, prevention, punishment and redress for victims. Ratification and improved implementation of CAT contributes to strengthening the administration of justice and good governance; reduces the risk of abuses committed against citizens by public authorities; and provides guidance to develop good practices that appeal to their own national context. Implementing CAT also promotes social and political stability, economic investment and the attainment of the Sustainable Development Goals (especially SDG16).

List the key documentation and sources used for the analysis:

- Memorandum of Understanding between APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark
- CTI Strategy 2016-2017
- CTI Annual Reports 2014 to 2017

2. Fragility, conflict, migration and resilience

Better and wider ratification and implementation of CAT may contribute to the protection of asylum-seekers, refugees and migrants in detention and prevent violations that can amount to torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment, for example through establishment of National Preventive Mechanisms (NPMs) under the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture and application of safeguards.

List the key documentation and sources used for the analysis:

- Memorandum of Understanding between APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark
- CTI Strategy 2016-2017
- CTI Annual Reports 2014 to 2017
3. Assessment of human rights situation (HRBA) and gender

The project human rights based in nature. The objective is promoting and protecting the fundamental human right not to be subjected to torture with a focus on ratification and implementation of the UN Convention against Torture through constructive and peer-based dialogue and technical cooperation among states.

Human Right Standards (international, regional and national legislation)

- The projects is in and of itself aiming to improve the promotion and protection of the fundamental human right not to be subjected to torture and as such works to achieve this key human rights standards.
- The international normative framework on the absolute human right not to be subjected to torture is fixed in non-derogable provisions in the general human rights instruments such as the UN Declaration on Human Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Right.
- The right is further elaborated in the UN Convention Against Torture (CAT) ratified by 162 countries and the Optional Protocol to the Convention Against Torture (OPCAT).
- The normative framework has a corresponding infrastructure at UN level with four bodies and mechanisms designated to the subject: The Special Rapporteur on Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment; the Committee Against Torture (CAT), the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture and other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (SPT) and the UN Voluntary Fund for Victims of Torture.
- The UN framework is complemented by regional instruments, systems and mechanisms.

Universal Periodic Review

- Recommendations made during the Universal Periodic Review frequently and States repeatedly call for ratification and improved implementation of the Convention against Torture.
- The UN Committee on the Convention against Torture and the UN Subcommittee for the Prevention of Torture addresses the implementation of the Convention against Torture and prevention of torture respectively as their core objective.

Identify key rights holders in the programme: Potential victims of torture

Identify key duty bearers in the programme: States

Human Rights Principles (PANT)

Participation

- The initiative focuses on the State implementation of the human rights obligations and state ratification of human rights conventions. As such, the rights holders are not directly involved, as the value added of the CTI is largely the state-to-state dialogue.
- In developing and holding seminars and other events, civil society is involved and invited to the extent this is relevant, including in hosting of events by the CTI in margins of the Human Rights Council sessions.

Accountability

1 The purpose of the analysis is to facilitate and strengthen the application of the Human Rights Based Approach, and integrate gender in Danish development cooperation. The analysis should identify the main human rights issues in respect of social and economic rights, cultural rights, and civil and political rights. Gender is an integral part of all three categories.
The ratification and implementation of the Convention against torture, which the CTI aims to promote, is in itself a promotion of accountability by the duty bearers both for and with the duty bearers horizontally.

Non-discrimination
- There are no particular rights-holders excluded from access and influence.

Transparency
- Information on the work of the CTI, including CTI strategies and annual reports are made publicly available on the CTI website. This includes access for rights holders including marginalised groups.
- Information about the work of the CTI is made available in English and depending on the context has been made available in French, Arabic and Spanish.

Gender
International torture prevention mechanisms stress the importance of a gender-sensitive interpretation of torture and the need to pay particular attention to issues such as rape in detention, violence against pregnant women and denial of reproductive rights, which have long been recognized as falling under the Convention’s definition. Increased CAT ratification and implementation may contribute to the protection of detained women and LGBTI persons.

Youth
Youth is not a separate element of the project, however, conditions in youth detention centres and the rights of minors can be expected to be positively affected as part of improved implementation of the CAT.

4. Inclusive sustainable growth, climate change and environment

There are no risks or challenges to inclusive sustainable growth and development in the project. There is no relevance of mainstreaming support to inclusive green growth and transformation to a low-carbon and climate resilient economies in the project. There may be minor impacts related to environment and climate change as a result of the project due to necessary travelling of CTI secretariat and the core group to participate in regional and national meetings. Impact is minimized by focusing on local participation from present embassies. An Environmental Impact Assessment is not considered relevant; rights and access to key natural resources is not a factor.

List the key documentation and sources used for the analysis:
- Memorandum of Understanding between APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark
- CTI Strategy 2016-2017
- CTI Annual Reports 2014 to 2017
5. Capacity of public sector, public financial management and corruption

Through the government-to-government approach that the CTI is founded on, technical assistance and capacity building, including between ministries of justice and police, capacity of the public sectors in UN Member states is increased with regards to measures to prevent torture. Quality of public financial management anti-corruption, while peripherally relevant to prevention of torture, through ensuring good governance and rule of law, does not fall within the scope of the CTI.

List the key documentation and sources used for the analysis:

- CTI Strategy 2016-2017
- CTI Annual Reports 2014 to 2017

6. Matching with Danish strengths and interests, engaging Danish actors, seeking synergy

Combating torture has been a top human rights priority for Denmark for several decades, which the ministry pursues and promotes through multiple channels, including by presenting resolutions on torture in the United Nations General Assembly and the Human Rights Council. Further, it is promoted through civil society support and through the Universal Periodic Review process where the fight against torture is furthered at a national level, including ratification and implementation of the convention against torture.

The many years’ experience in the fight against torture and an acknowledged leading position in the field, Denmark is in a unique position to drive the agenda forward. In the Danish multi-pillar approach, the Convention against torture Initiative (CTI) is a novel and unique project. By creating an informal government-to-government space for dialogue and exchanges, the project fills a gap in the fight against torture, and assists states in making better use of the means already available, inter alia the UN Committee against Torture.

In 2014 the CTI was launched by Denmark in cooperation with Chile, Ghana, Indonesia and Morocco inter alia to change this. Over the past three years, the number of states parties has increased with 10 states parties (153-163), leaving 32 outstanding ratifications and many states parties still facing challenges in implementing the convention.

As also highlighted in the recent external evaluation report on Danish Support to Promotion and Protection of Human Rights 2006-2016 the CTI improves Denmark’s policy outreach and substantial leverage with countries facing challenges or having different legal traditions or for other reasons have proven difficult to reach through traditional channels of outreach of liaising. As such the CTI is a unique possibility for Denmark to further the anti-torture agenda and through the CTI impact international and national policy making.

The CTI is a government-to-government initiative and cooperation between Danish authorities both at embassy level and central public authorities are relevant, including cooperation between national police in exchange of experiences.

Driven by state cooperation, inter-state dialogue is at the core of the project, however the CTI is also heavily reliant on cooperation and dialogue with civil society, including in understanding and cooperating with national government structures and organising meetings and events for exchange of experiences among states.

List the key documentation and sources used for the analysis:

- Memorandum of Understanding between APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark
- CTI Strategy 2016-2017
- CTI Annual Reports 2014 to 2017

7. Stakeholder analysis

- The ultimate objective of the Danish engagement in the CTI project is the prevention of torture, why the indirect but ultimate stakeholders are individuals at the risk of being tortured, thereby having their human rights violated.
- The direct stakeholders in achieving the objectives of Denmark through the work of the CTI are potentially all UN Member States, as they are obligated under human rights law to ensure the right of all human beings not to be subjected to torture. In terms of ratification of the Convention against Torture, only states that are not parties to the convention are direct stakeholders, however, in terms of improved implementation, all member states are potential stakeholders.
- The Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights and the Human Rights Council, relevant human rights mechanisms, special procedures and treaty bodies, are indirect stakeholders.
- In addition, civil society organisations working against torture are direct and indirect stakeholders, both APT including the CTI secretariat who is directly involved with in the work of the CTI, but also organisations working in the field of combatting torture can be considered stakeholders. This includes local NGO’s working in or with UN Member States to promote the fight against torture nationally as well as international NGO’s working multilaterally for the prevention of torture.
- Lastly, the UN Committee against Torture, the UN Subcommittee for the Prevention of torture, the UN Special Rapporteur on Torture and the UN Voluntary Fund for Victims of Torture can be considered stakeholders, in the pursuit of the shared objective of upholding the absolute prohibition against torture and improved implementation of the convention against torture and its optional protocol.

- The key stakeholders are:
  - The core group member states (Chile, Denmark, Ghana, Indonesia and Morocco). The core group members represent a cross regional group to ensure broad outreach and national and regional complexities and dynamics to ensure a customised approach to the individual CTI target countries. They ensure broad ownership of the CTI and a strong network.
  - Association for the Prevention of Torture (APT), including the CTI Secretariat. As an NGO, working on the prevention of torture, the APT has an interest in reinforcing the CTI as a strong state driven pillar of their work. They contribute with in-depth knowledge and guidance in the field of torture prevention.

- Communication among stakeholders is frequent, throughout and informal, ensuring a flexible approach to the work of the CTI. Communication is kept lean through day-to-day e-mail exchanges and frequent meeting. See MoU between APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark for details (Annex 7).
- Denmark is the lead stakeholder. The Core Group members are generally invested and homogenous, and there are no major discrepancies in the approach to the CTI, including in the formulation of strategies.

- The project is generally very well received by stakeholder states outside of the core group and civil society, who shows positive interest in the work of the CTI, including as direct stakeholders for the CTI.

- For approach to engagement of relevant stakeholders, see MoU between APT and the Permanent Mission of Denmark for details (Annex 7) and CTI Strategy 2016-2017 /Annex 8)

List the key documentation and sources used for the analysis:

Annex 2: Partners

1. Summary of stakeholder analysis
The core group member states (Chile, Denmark, Ghana, Indonesia and Morocco). The core group members represent a cross regional group to ensure broad outreach and national and regional complexities and dynamics to ensure a customized approach to the individual CTI target countries. They ensure broad ownership of the CTI and a strong network. Association for the Prevention of Torture (APT), including the CTI Secretariat. As an NGO working on the prevention of torture the APT has an interest in reinforcing the CTI as a strong state driven pillar of their work. They contribute with in-depth knowledge and guidance in the field of torture prevention.

2. Criteria for selecting programme partners
The CTI was established in collaboration between Denmark, the APT and the remaining core group members specifically with the objective that the CTI stands for: Universal ratification and improved implementation of the Convention against Torture. The basis for the CTI is state engagement and exchange and the political and strategic partnership among the states involved is unique and gives a comparative advantage to other efforts to hold states to their obligations within the field of torture. As such, the CTI did not exist before and exists only as a result of the continued engagement of the five core states. In seeking a partner to execute the idea behind the CTI, Denmark and the remaining core group sought out a well-established civil society organization based in Geneva, with the needed relevant network and knowledge of the fight against torture and the ability to advise the member states of the CTI core group in the fulfillment of the objectives of the CTI. For this, the APT was considered the best fit.

While the CTI was initially managed within the existing structure of the APT, upon internal evaluation of the project in 2015, it was found necessary to separate the implementation of the CTI project with a formal secretariat to ensure sufficient focus and resources for the implementation. Hence, the CTI Secretariat was established as a separate unit, while still hosted by the APT. As such, the CTI secretariat is specifically designed for the implementation of the CTI objectives and strategy and is not considered replaceable.

Organizational capacity to provide legal and financial advice and administration of the CTI secretariat on a daily basis
3. Brief presentation of partners

The Association for the Prevention of Torture (APT) is a trusted long-term partner of Denmark in Geneva in the fight against torture. The APT is an independent non-governmental organization based in Geneva. The APT focuses on the prevention of torture and with more than 40 years of experience in torture prevention, this well renowned association works professionally with torture prevention in both the headquarters in Geneva and in the field. Over the years the strategic long-term focus on prevention has enabled the APT to collaborate with state authorities, police services, the judiciary, national institutions, academics and other NGOs, providing a strong network and entry point for the objectives of the Convention against Torture Initiative.

In the inception of the Convention against Torture Initiative, the APT was instrumental in identifying gaps in ratification and implementation to ensure a needs based approach to the project. They assisted in developing the format of the CTI with the cross-regional core group of Chile, Denmark, Ghana, Indonesia and Morocco leading to the unique initiative becoming an intergovernmental process with a hands-on approach to the government-to-government cooperation.

The strategy of the CTI Core Group is managed and implemented by the CTI Secretariat, as a sub-partner under the APT. The secretariat works as an independent substantial and administrational set-up hosted by the APT to carry out activities under close supervision and participation by the CTI Core Group.

The memorandum of understanding between the Permanent Mission of Denmark to the UN in Geneva and the APT 2018 outlines in detail the roles of the main partners of the Danish financial contribution to the Convention against Torture Initiative.

<td>Universal ratification by all 193 UN member States of the UN Convention against Torture is not achieved by 2024</td>
<td>Likely</td>
<td>Limited</td>
<td>To support the CTI narrative, it will be necessary to continue to highlight ambition of universal ratification even though some countries may prove impossible to convince. The approach to such countries will be adjusted accordingly, but ultimately rests on political landscape.</td>
<td></td>
<td>The impact of the materialisation of the risk will not change the immense impact of the CTI. It is highly likely that it will be possible to achieve close to universal ratification, but few UN Member States might prove unwilling or unable to ratify before 2024 due to circumstances unrelated to the CTI and the convention against torture. The impact of the CTI will not be diminished greatly, since each new states party is an achievement in and of itself and forms an important step in the fight against torture.</td>

Annex 5 – Communication Plan

As the CTI is an expression of the work and efforts of the core group members executed by the CTI Secretariat, hosted by the APT. As such, the communication done by the CTI Secretariat on behalf of the CTI can also be seen as communication on behalf of the core group.

As such the communications plan laid out by the CTI covers the communication of the results also on behalf of Denmark. In addition, Denmark represented by the Permanent Mission of Denmark has a policy to follow the communication made by the CTI Secretariat implementing the CTI Strategy, including through social media, and utilise this communication to also promote Denmark’s role in the CTI as part of the broader work in the fight against torture by Denmark. This includes publication of official statements made by members of the core group in the Human Rights Council on the website and sharing on social media. Events of particular importance to the CTI, including ratification of the CAT are also shared on social media. On a bilateral level, Denmark on behalf of the core group writes note verbales to relevant member states to raise awareness of the CTI and promote engagement in the objectives of the CTI and membership of the CTI Group of Friends.

Denmark also links to the official CTI website. CTI’s website, www.cti2024.org, provides a repository of tools and information on ratification and implementation, in a simple uncluttered format. The website will post major news items and generate an e-newsletter periodically. Given efforts to translate CTI materials and resources into other languages, in 2018-20, CTI will add a “library” of CTI materials and resources available in other languages. The CTI has also built and will continue to maintain a social presence via twitter @cti2024 and Facebook facebook.com/CTI2024.

CTI Group of Friends and partners

Partnerships are an integral part of the CTI’s vision. So far 39 UN Member States who have signed up to the CTI’s Group of Friends, while the CTI has worked closely with a wider group of States in all regions. In order to widen the platform for the exchange of knowledge, experience and ideas on how to achieve universal ratification and implementation of the Convention against Torture, the CTI will continue to reach out to all UN Member States to join its Group of Friends. The CTI welcomes the support already provided by many of these States, through for example their participation in and sharing of good practices at various CTI events. The CTI States meet twice annually in Geneva, and once per year in New York, and otherwise as requested.

The CTI is also closely cooperating with the Committee against Torture and the Sub-Committee on the Prevention of Torture, and a number of other stakeholders who are actively following up on providing technical support and capacity building to States, including OHCHR, UNPOL, international and regional organisations, non-governmental organizations and civil society, and independent experts. Many of these actors have joined the CTI’s Group of Friends, and are valuable actors in sharing good practices and expertise.

CTI will partner on specific events and the development of tools with expert partners.

Annual CTI Forum and Major CTI event in 2019

As a multi-stakeholder platform for information sharing and exploring challenges and good practices, and as the main annual event of the CTI, the CTI Forum will continue to be held annually. In 2019, at the fifth anniversary of the CTI, and the 35th anniversary of UNCAT, a special event will be held in Copenhagen to continue to keep the profile of the CTI and its vision high on international agendas and in the public view.
Continuous engagement with the United Nations and with regional and sub-regional organisations

In addition to the CTI’s Group of Friends (mentioned above), the CTI will continue to actively engage with UN Member States through in particular the United Nations human rights system and the UN General Assembly, to keep UN Member States abreast of ratification and implementation developments, and will take steps to engage more concertedly with relevant regional and sub-regional organisations.
Annex 6 - Quality Assurance checklist for appraisal of programmes and projects

File number/F2 reference: 2015-17790
Project name: General contribution to the Convention against Torture Initiative (CTI) 2018
Project period: January – December 2018 (12 months)
Budget: 954'608 CHF (6'083'714 DKK)

Presentation of quality assurance process:

✓ The design of the programme/project has been appraised by someone independent who has not been involved in the development of the programme/project.

Comment: By proposal by the Permanent Mission of Denmark in Geneva the CTI project was approved for internal appraisal by KFU by mail pr. 28 February 2018 due to low complexity and risk and has thus not gone through an independent appraisal.

✓ The recommendations of the appraisal has been reflected upon in the final design of the programme/project.

Comments: Since the appraisal was done as a result of the accumulation of the grant between 2014 and 2017 the internal appraisal was made of an existing, running project and therefore the appraisal is not as such part of a programming process.

✓ The programme/project complies with Danida policies and Aid Management Guidelines.
Comments:

✓ The programme/project addresses relevant challenges and provides adequate responses.
Comments:

✓ Issues related to HRBA/Gender, Green Growth and Environment have been addressed sufficiently.
Comments:

✓ Comments from the Danida Programme Committee have been addressed (if applicable).

1 This Quality Assurance Checklist should be used by the responsible MFA unit to document the quality assurance process of appropriations where TQ8 is not involved. The checklist does not replace an appraisal, but aims to help the responsible MFA unit ensure that key questions regarding the quality of the programme/project are asked and that the answers to these questions are properly documented and communicated to the approving authority.
Comments:

✓ The programme/project outcome(s) are found to be sustainable and is in line with the partner’s development policies and strategies. Implementation modalities are well described and justified.
Comments:

✓ The results framework, indicators and monitoring framework of the programme/project provide an adequate basis for monitoring results and outcome.
Comments:

✓ The programme/project is found sound budget-wise.
Comments:

✓ The programme/project is found realistic in its time-schedule.
Comments:

✓ Other donors involved in the same programme/project have been consulted, and possible harmonised common procedures for funding and monitoring have been explored.
Comments: Denmark is the sole donor

✓ Key programme/project stakeholders have been identified, the choice of partner has been justified and criteria for selection have been documented.
Comments:

✓ The executing partner(s) is/are found to have the capacity to properly manage, implement and report on the funds for the programme/project and lines of management responsibility are clear.
Comments:

✓ Risks involved have been considered and risk management integrated in the programme/project document.
Comments:

✓ In conclusion, the programme/project can be recommended for approval: yes / no
