Key results:

- Three day conference with around 1,000 participants with focus on anti-corruption in development cooperation and as part of the endeavour to achieve the SDGs.

- High-level segment with participation by around 30 ministers and leaders of international organisations.

- National statements outlining anti-corruption initiatives.

Justification for support:

- Reducing corruption is part of SDG 16.5. Furthermore, corruption impedes efforts to deliver results on all SDG’s. Therefore, anti-corruption is a key priority of The World 2030 – Denmark’s strategy for development cooperation and humanitarian action.

- Reducing corruption contributes to reducing poverty, promoting economic growth and improving service delivery.

Major risks and challenges:

- Risk of key participants not being able to attend the conference; mitigated by starting dialogue early before calendars are booked.

- Risk of lack of ambition by countries to contribute actively in moving forward the anti-corruption agenda; mitigated through close dialogue on identifying realistic and ambitious commitments.

Strategic objectives:

To reduce corruption at international level.

Justification for choice of partner:

Transparency International and the IACC Council have been the organiser of the IACC series for a number of years. There are no alternative partners in this case.

Summary:

The 18th International Anti-Corruption Conference taking place in Copenhagen 22-24 October 2018 will bring together representatives from the public sector, the private sector, media, academia etc. for discussions on how to combat corruption. In addition to the formal programme of the IACC, consisting of a series of workshops, this year’s IACC will feature a high-level segment bringing together ministers and leaders from international organisations for political discussions. The overall aim of the conference is to promote the anti-corruption agenda in development cooperation with the objective of strengthening international anti-corruption cooperation in order to reduce corruption levels in developing countries.

The development engagement document details the objectives and management arrangements for the development cooperation concerning the IACC18 as agreed between the parties specified below. The development engagement document together with the documentation specified below constitutes the agreement between the parties.

Fighting corruption and promoting the global anti-corruption agenda are key priorities in The World 2030 – Denmark’s strategy for development cooperation and humanitarian action (January 2017). Reducing the level of corruption in developing countries is a crucial element in promoting the Sustainable Development Goals.

The conference will consist of a series of workshops, plenary debates, side and special events responding to the aim and objective of the Conference.

Furthermore, the first day of the conference will feature a high-level segment bringing together ministers from both OECD and non-OECD-countries along with leaders of international and regional organisations. The aim of the high-level meeting is to strengthen the mutual efforts on the anti-corruption agenda with concrete action points and measures. Business leaders from the private sector will also be invited for the high-level segment.
Furthermore, the conference will feature a North/South Dialogue involving parliamentarians from both donor and developing countries. The purpose of the parliamentary track is to strengthen the international parliamentary cooperation on anti-corruption.

Programme/Project period: 2018

Budget: 6.5 million DKK (previous grant 4.5 million DKK)

Presentation of quality assurance process:
The Minister for Development Cooperation will host the 18th International Anti-Corruption Conference (IACC) in Copenhagen 22-24 October 2018, in collaboration with Transparency International (TI) and IACC Council. In November 2016 DKK 9 million was allocated to IACC. With an allocation of an additional DKK 2 million allocated in 2018, the total allocation will amount to 11 million DKK. With 4.5 million DKK disbursed in 2017 and 6.5 million DKK to be disbursed in 2018. The overall design of the conference remains the same, thus the assessment has been that there is no need for further quality assurance. The planning the IACC has been in close dialogue between KFU and TI. TI and their IACC team, have many years of experience planning the IACC. The assessment has been that they are a partner with strong technical capacity.

☐ The design of the programme/project has been appraised by someone independent who has not been involved in the development of the programme/project.
